Purpose

The purpose of relationships and sex education (RSE) are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place so that pupils have confidence to ask questions
- To ensure that misconceptions are addressed so that pupils know more, remember more and understand more about RSE
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

2. Statutory requirements

As a primary academy school, we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017. Whilst we do not have to follow the National Curriculum, we are expected to offer all pupils a curriculum that is similar to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science, which would include the elements of sex education, contained in the science curriculum. Gawthorpe Community Academy has chosen to follow all elements of the National Curriculum and include coverage of the key science elements, which contribute towards RSE.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to the guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – an RSE working group collated all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance. The working group used published information from DFE, PSHE Association and The Key.
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to attend a meeting about the policy
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

Definitions

We define RSE as follows:

- RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.
- RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

Curriculum

Our curriculum plan is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary. Please look at the full SOW for more detail regarding RSE coverage within each year group.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so pupils are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

We recognise that sex education is not compulsory in primary schools; however, we have decided to cover some content on sex education to meet the needs of pupils and prepare them for the transition to high school. (The locality within which the school is located has a high rate of teenage pregnancy).

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born
- Keeping safe

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

Pupils also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by school staff and or from the school nursing team. When RSE lessons are delivered there are 2 members of staff present.

- Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:
  - Families and people who care for me
  - Caring friendships
  - Respectful relationships
  - Online relationships
  - Being safe

Sex education focuses on teaching fundamental building blocks about children's bodies and how they change including

- Puberty - Preparing boys for the changes that adolescence brings
- Puberty – Preparing girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born
- How to keep our bodies safe.

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2 of this policy and also the full RSE Scheme of Work.

The RSE areas of learning are taught within the context of 'family life' taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances. The RSE SOW promotes that families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures and reflects sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

Roles and responsibilities

The local governing body

The local governing body will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory/non-science components of RSE (see section 8 of this policy).

Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory/non-science components of RSE

Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity. A ground rules contract exclusive to RSE lessons is devised by each class and agreed by pupils prior to RSE delivery.

Parents

We believe that parents have the primary role in teaching their children about relationships and sex education. We aim to provide a programme in partnership with our parents, ensuring all pupils receive high quality provision in line with national good practice recommendations.

It is hoped that the school curriculum and the ethos of the school complements and enhances home teaching and values, giving due regard to the value of family life and loving and stable relationships.

We provide parents with opportunities to discuss the school's policy and practice. Parents will be informed about the timing of the RSE sessions and offered an opportunity to look at resources. Parents are encouraged to discuss and ask questions.

Under the terms of the 1996 Education Act (Section 405), parents have the right to withdraw their child from part, or whole of the Sex education programme that does not form part of the national curriculum. If a parent wishes to do this they should discuss this with the Headteacher. We would encourage parents to raise, at the earliest opportunity, any concerns with the class teacher and Headteacher. The Headteacher will discuss with parents the implications of withdrawing their child from the non-statutory part of the curriculum.

Parents cannot withdraw their children from Relationships Education as per section 34 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017.

Training and Monitoring

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the SLT, the Headteacher and PSHE Leader. The following monitoring will take place in a school year

- planning monitoring / work scrutiny
- pupil discussion
- observation
- work scrutiny

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems. This policy will be reviewed by headteacher in consultation with staff, pupils, parents and the local governing body.

The policy will be approved by the local governing body.
